

Tours of the Boulder County Recycling Center

Have you ever visited the Boulder County Recycling Center? It's where Eco-Cycle processes Boulder County's recyclables—all 40,000 tons of it – each year! Both Eco-Cycle and the Boulder County Resource Conservation Division are available to give tours of the facility, in which you will learn:

- Which materials are recyclable and which are not
- How materials are processed and where they go
- The correct way to prepare materials (don't crush cans, remove lids from glass and plastic bottles, etc.)
- Ways that you can help encourage recycling in Boulder County

The facility is state of the art, made of many recycled materials and is fun to see in action. We ask that most tours consist of a group of 15 or more people. Please call 303-444-6634 for more information. If you are interested in going with your family, you can also take a self-guided tour Monday through Friday, between 8am and 5pm.
